

Use FlapBooks to Introduce Compare-Contrast

Primary teachers and/or special education teachers might try the 3D flapbook before introducing students to the T-Chart. This offers students a hands-on way of organizing their information. As always, before assigning students to do something independently, model the strategy with the whole group first. Check out this XL flapbook that could be used within a whole-class lesson. By laminating the flapbook, you can use write-on/wipe-off markers numerous times on a variety of topics before releasing students to try one on their own.

▲
Name
the shape
▼

▲
Number of sides
▼

▲
Length of sides
▼

▲
Example object
▼

