

Frindle Found Poem

Was Nick a troublemaker?	(p. 1, ¶2, line 1)
An expert...the delaying question	(p. 14, ¶1, line 3)
One of the greatest time wasters	(p. 28, ¶1, line 3)
“Here’s your...frindle.”	(p. 35, ¶5, line 2)
That’s when Nick got the big idea	(p. 55, ¶8, lines 3-4)
And may the best word win	(p. 47, ¶3, line 3)
Mrs. Granger’s eyes flashed, and then narrowed	(p. 41, ¶2, lines 1-2)
Trouble at school	(p. 51, ¶3, lines 2-3)
Nick is in the middle of it	(p. 51, ¶3, line 3)
I am writing this punishment with a frindle	(p. 64)
Life did settle back to normal	(p. 84, ¶1, line 1)
Frindle was just a word, like door	(p. 84, ¶3, line 4)
Nick kept a good idea to himself	(p. 89, ¶4, lines 2-3)
And that changed Nick	(p. 89, ¶4, line 3)
Mrs. Granger noticed the change, too	(p. 90, ¶4, line 1)
“You mustn’t let a few hard days trick you into clamming up”	(p. 92, ¶2, line 4)
Her eyes turned up brighter than Nick had ever seen them before	(p. 92, ¶3, lines 3-4)
Ten years later...	(p. 95, ¶1, line 1)
Nick was rich	(p. 95, ¶3, line 1)
Nick remembered Mrs. Granger’s eyes	(p. 100, ¶3, line 1)
She had been rooting for frindle all along	(p. 100, ¶3, line 4)
