FAMOUS PERSON DESCRIPTION

Using fabric, yarn, pipe cleaners, buttons, etc., decorate the outside of your container to represent the physical description of your famous person. Consider:

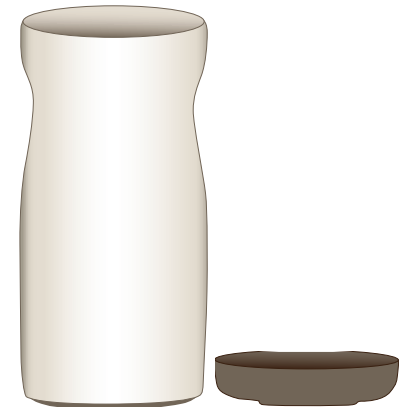

- The head (facial features, hair, hat, headdress, accessories, etc.).
- The body (clothes/outfit).
- Any significant props associated with the famous person.

INSIDE

CHARACTER TRAITS

Character traits are not feelings (e.g., jealous, ashamed, frustrated, etc.). They describe someone's personality on the inside (e.g., loyal, shy, confident, etc.).

On one index card, write a trait that describes your famous person. Then, using the 4 remaining index cards, provide textual evidence that demonstrates that trait. The evidence can come from any of the four ways readers get to know an individual:

- Through information revealed by the narrator.
- Through the person's own words (dialogue).
- Through the person's actions, reactions, or gestures.
- Through the words and actions of other people in the book.

Character traits are developed throughout the text, so select proof from the entire book.
