

PERSUASIVE LETTER

Dear lost-
and-found Department, ~~people~~.
Megan ^{has} lost her baby blanket. She ^{is} sill'is use it. It is in very splash her
mom's ^{thin} k's
It is in the bed room. it ^{ends} with
29. or 28. ^{phon} 123-45
you please check
every room and if you find ^{flip over} it can you send it to Indiana?

if you find
it then Megan Moriarty ^{would}
be happy!
My mom ^{thinks}
she put
it in the bed's

ANNOTATION: Dear Lost-and-Found Department People, Megan Moriarty has lost her baby blanket. She still uses it. It is very special. Her mom thinks it is in the bedroom. It(s room number) ends with -29 or -28. Can you please check every room and if you find it can (flip this paper) you send it to Indiana? If you find it then Megan Moriarty would be happy! My mom thinks she put it in the beds.